voteRRegistRation
Allowing the complete or partial forfeiture of a public officer's pension if he or she is convicted of a certain type of felony that has direct and actual relationship to the performance of the public officer's existing duties.

Communication Association
International Labor
2018 ILCA

VOTE NO to CON CON
Or follow the link at www.cwa1180.org
WEBSITE
VOTE NO to CON CON
Or follow the link at www.cwa1180.org

Constitution Con
Shall there be a convention to amend the same?

Back of Ballot

Restrictions and stringencies on voting rights could be implemented with a Constitutional Convention, including diminishing polling sites and requiring government-issued identification. This would ultimately reduce the number of eligible voters.

Proposition 1 on whether to hold a Constitutional Convention (Proposition 1) has ramifications not only for those living in New York but also for at least the next 20 years. A Constitutional Convention is projected to cost $340 million.

During the last Convention, 4 out of 5 delegates were career politicians and Albany insiders who became the norm. Also at risk? Workers' Compensation, Workers' rights to organize, form, and join unions at free will would be at risk. The current Constitution guarantees children the right to a free public school education and limits the use of funding for school maintenance and establishment.

The State Constitution now ensures that New York provide for its citizens in need with welfare and unemployment benefits, emergency healthcare, and homeless shelters, to name a few. All greedy developers could push to undo these safeguards for profit. The State Constitution now ensures that New York provide for its citizens in need with welfare and unemployment benefits, emergency healthcare, and homeless shelters, to name a few. All greedy developers could push to undo these safeguards for profit. The State Constitution now ensures that New York provide for its citizens in need with welfare and unemployment benefits, emergency healthcare, and homeless shelters, to name a few. All greedy developers could push to undo these safeguards for profit.

Find out more at: www.reddoorcreativeny.com/no2concon