The gender pay gap affects women of all backgrounds, with far-reaching consequences for professional growth and financial security. In New York, the gender pay gap costs women an average of $5,766 per year, according to the National Partnership for Women and Families. In New York City, women earn about 89 cents on the dollar compared to men. The disparities for women of color are even steeper. Asian-American women in NYC earn 63 cents on the dollar; African American women earn 55 cents; and Latinas earn just 46 cents on the dollar.

This salary workshop equips women of all backgrounds with the tools to research fair pay and advocate for themselves.
