GUEST SPEAKER

Sallie Stallings

Account Executive, Winston Financial

Sallie Stallings is an Account Executive with Winston Financial where she works in the Public Affairs Department developing partnerships with labor organizations and negotiating supplemental benefit programs designed to meet the unique needs of union members. She is passionate about raising awareness of the importance of living benefits, including disability, critical illness, and life insurance, so working families are better prepared when unexpected life events occur. She believes that no one should have to choose between focusing on their health and putting food on the table or keeping a roof over their head. Prior to joining Winston Financial, Sallie dedicated 34 years of service to DC 37 where she began her career and ultimately served as a Council Representative representing City health care employees within NYC Health + Hospitals. She advocated for workers' rights, participated in labor-management committees with executive leadership and union leadership, and worked to improve workplace conditions while protecting contractual benefits. During her tenure, she also volunteered her time to support union initiatives and committees, including the Coalition of Labor Union Women and the Black History Committee, reflecting her long-standing commitment to equity, education, and empowerment within the labor movement.

We kindly ask that all committee members consider turning on their cameras.
